Robber Robs Cop.. Cop Hunts Robber-No Cop-No Robber

Who cops the robber, when the robber robs the cop?

That's what Constable Joe Fuller is trying to figure today.

Fuller, who lives in Riceville, is a victim of a robber, and what is more hasn't even a gat to nab the rat. The robber stole Fuller's gun.

Constable Fuller who was at one time the victim of a speeding truck driver, who turned around and arrested Fuller, reported the robbery to Radio Station WFUL on Wednesday. He asked the station to make an appeal to persons in the area to help him catch the thief.

Fuller said that apparently the robber entered his home sometime before daylight on Wednesday. The thief gained entrance by picking the lock on the front screen door with an ice pick. Upon entering the home the robber helped himself to Fuller's 38 calibre gun, a hand-tooled gun holster, a wallet, containing more than $200 in currency and valuable papers, a handsome pair of charcoal gray trousers and then went to the ice box and ate a hearty meal of baked ham, which ham-bone he later left in the backyard of the Fuller home.

Mrs. Fuller, the two Fuller children, and the Constable were all asleep in the house and heard no indication of an intruder.

Ah, the beauty of these cool nights for sound sleeping. But robbers are a sleepless lot.

ONLY SMALL PERCENTAGE OF COUNTY'S CHILDREN VACCINATED AGAINST POLIO

Only 31.5 per cent of Fulton County's approximately 5,107 children under twenty have received any polio vaccine, according to figures reported to the Kentucky State Department of Health which were released today. With so small a percentage of highly susceptible persons protected there is always the danger of an epidemic.

Thirty-three cases of polio have been reported in Kentucky this year (one of them in Fulton County). This figure is lower than the number of cases at this time last year, when fifty-five had been reported. Last week 180 new cases throughout the United States were reported, compared with 277 for the corresponding week of last year. The reduction in the numbers of cases perhaps can be largely attributed to the effectiveness of the polio vaccine. Parents are being urged to have their children vaccinated at once before the polio season gets further under way. Most susceptible to polio are those under twenty years of age and pregnant women. Over 10,000,000 persons in this most susceptible group have received vaccine with a perfect safety record.

Vaccine is available through family physicians. Parents are being advised to check with their physicians and follow the plan which has been adopted in their localities for the administration of the vaccine.

The State Health Department is shipping orders of vaccine to counties on a first-come, first-served basis. Fulton County parents have been asked to call for the vaccine so that this area will receive its proper allotment.

These farmers are being notified of their wheat allotments. Quotas do not affect those farmers who harvest 15 acres or less of wheat for grain on a farm.

If quotas are approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting in the wheat referendum, the quotas will remain in effect (Continued on Page Five)

NO HOUSES FOR RENT?

A young man and his family of three children tried all day Wednesday to find an unfurnished house to rent in or around Fulton.

Despite the fact that every available agency or individual was called who would normally be advised of such a vacancy, no success was met. As of this morning, the family could not locate a prospective home.

Either Fulton housing is at a premium, or else those who have property to rent have not advertised the fact.

The NEWS would like to help this young man, who is a newcomer, with a good job and a pleasant family.

If you have a house to rent, call 470 right away.

Do you have spots before your eyes? Are you run-down, out of energy and your golf game is suffering? Do you wake up nights, can't sleep and have trouble making important decisions? Don't call your doctor, consult your political chairman you need your ileitis out.

In case you don't know what your ileitis is, don't run to the medical books, just call up the nearest precinct committeeman and he'll tell you what it is and how it works in your campaign system.

Now if you have a coronary condition (heart trouble) and your doctor says to take it easy, just perish the thought. Any politician will tell you that a heart condition is the surest way in the world to live a long and happy life, and what is more you have a chance to die, be re-incarnated, come back and have a second term.

But, remember this, if you have a heart condition don't take it for granted that you will outlive the American mortality table. What you need to do that is have your ileitis out and then you'll be a combination of Atlas, McFadden and Methuselah.

It is these happy thoughts of living that pervaded my mind as I read the morning paper on Wednesday.

You know that President Eisenhower has announced that he certainly will be the candidate for President on the Republican ticket if he is nominated

Mrs. Little Was Big Help To Crutchfield Ladies

By Mrs. D. J. Murchison

The Crutchfield Homemakers Club was one of the first clubs to be organized in Fulton County in 1928. Crutchfield Club's most outstanding member who worked the hardest to organize a club in Crutchfield was the late Mrs. Will Little. At one time Mrs. Little was one of our county presidents.

We would like to pay a tribute to the memory of Mrs. Little, who not only worked to organize the club but also strived to keep the club from disbanding during the years of the depression.

Mrs. Little couldn't drive a car so Mrs. J. W. McClanahan drove her to everyone's home in the community to encourage the women to meet and organize the club. Through the undying efforts of Mrs. Little the club was organized with approximately eight members. The former Miss Myrtle Jackson was the Home Demonstration agent at that time.

During the years of the depression the club had a hard time surviving as it was difficult for the members to make money to help pay the agent's salary. Mrs. Little went before the fiscal court to try to secure funds for the salary of the home agent.

For a certain length of time Mrs. Little invited the young mothers of the community to come to her home where she taught them Child Care from the homemakers' lessons.

Mrs. Little also was instrumental in the club securing a pressure canner and held an all day canning at her home. Mrs. J. W. McClanahan also had a community canning at her home. Mrs. Little always extended a helping hand to anyone in need. Her memory will always be an inspiration to all Crutchfield Homemakers.

The club started growing in membership after the depression and today we have 20 members. We have one charter member, Mrs. Paul Williams, who also served as a county president. Mrs. Roy D. Taylor, now a member of our club, served as county president when she was a member of Victory Club. We have had county leaders every year.

Mrs. Clyde Corum, vice president of the club, taught some of her friends and their husbands to refinish chairs and re-seat them with Hong Kong grass and the men really enjoyed it.

One of our outstanding members is Mrs. Roy Milton Taylor, who has never missed a meeting during the five years that she has been a member. The birth of Mrs. Taylor's three year old daughter didn't interfere with her regular attendance. Mrs. Taylor is our recreation leader and was

Good Civilian Defense Organization Here

Our editorial last week outlined our alarm at an apparent lack of local Civilian Defense machinery was apparently unfounded, we learned after the paper hit the streets.

Fulton DOES have a Civilian Defense organization, we learned, and it is a good one, in fact it is held up as one of the better examples of its kind of organization in the State. The fact that we were ignorant of all of this organization, and all of this planning, while it is partly our fault, just points up a deficiency in the whole business: the public in general (including us, of course) has been so apathetic about the whole thing that practically no one knows that such an organization exists, much less its scope, much less its capabilities in any kind of major emergency around Fulton, war-like or otherwise.

But we are happy to tell you just how wrong we were. Mayor Bill Browning, local Civil Defense director, has a very detailed and complete 'emergency' setup for Fulton, and here are some of the important things it covers:

Number of ambulances available; evacuation and warning plans, a registration and information center, a public information setup, and a register of doctors, nurses, communications people, policemen and firemen.

Arrangements made for emergency auxiliary medical centers, lighting plants, dispersal centers, housing and first-aid specialists.

Available number of trucks, tractors, bulldozers, road equipment, other passenger vehicles, welders, wreckers, gasoline supplies and clothing and an aircraft spotter Corps that will work with him.

All of this data, and more we are informed, can be coordinated into action here in Fulton for any kind of a major disaster that would require it, under the control of the Director . . . who would be quickly authorized to act with complete authority in marshaling order out of chaos.

In case it's needed, then Fulton has a disaster organization that is setup to cope with the situation, and it will be our collective duties to drop whatever else we are doing and either assume the special jobs we have been given or else go and stay where we are told for as long as we are told, doing what we are told.

Civilian Defense, with well-publicized planning and good cooperation of the citizens, will be the only answer in case of emergency, and we are indeed happy to learn that we have well-laid plans for Fulton.

Don't Ignore The Subscription Bill

This is just a friendly reminder to our many fine subscribers that the high cost of printing a newspaper these days has obliged us to watch our billing of renewal subscriptions perhaps a little more closely than in the past! We are allowing a reasonable length of time to elapse before we are obliged to discontinue sending you the paper due to non-payment, but if, a few weeks after your "final notice," you fail to get your NEWS on time, you have no choice but to believe you have been removed from our lists.

And honestly, we hate to lose even a single subscriber. We believe we have the nicest group of readers in the world . . . and we have consistently tried to give you the news as you like it. The fact that our circulation is now at an all-time high, providing an all-time record in coverage of the Ken-Tenn area indicates to us that the NEWS is well liked and well-read.

Pay when you receive your first "notice" and you will not run the risk of missing a single issue later.

Small Business Accounting Method

(By John J. Conlee, Credit Manager, General Plywood Corporation)

Ed's Note: Mr. Conlee is a member of the Louisville Chapter of the Association of Cost Accountants)

Anyone can approve credit on an order placed by a company with a high credit rating. However, approving credit on small and marginal accounts and keeping losses to a minimum proves the worth of the credit man in modern business. The profit on increased sales should justify many times over the losses that may occur because of selling marginal accounts. This calls for increased skill and knowledge in understanding and dealing with people. Not only should a prospective customer's financial statements be checked, but also his ability, his paying record, his product and his general credit standing should be analyzed to determine whether you can justify selling on open terms.

How can you obtain this information? Usually, a simple form letter to the customer's references and bank will obtain the information desired. If not, delve a little further into the matter. The bank with whom you do business will be glad to help you run a credit check if you are unable to obtain the information needed and conditions warrant your seeking their aid. A bank has far better facilities than others for obtaining credit information, and such information is often made available to a bank when it is denied to other sources. However, do not abuse the privilege of using your bank's help, as it is your job, not the bank's, to check credit on your customers.

Other sources of credit information are the Mercantile Agencies. Their fees are nominal if your needs are small. Again, profits on increased sales can more than justify the expenditure if full use can be made of the service.

After you have obtained your information, you must analyze it and determine your course. Are they capable? How much capital do they have? How good is their character? Are they showing improvement, standing still, or going backwards? Do they meet their obligations promptly, discounting within terms? Or should they be classed as people who take unearned discounts and make unjust claims for shortages and quality?

All information received should be held in strict confidence and used solely for the evaluation of the credit risk represented by the customer.

Always remember that as a credit man your underlying purpose is to sell your company's products. You should work as a team with the sales department as your joint objective is to make a profit. Your ability to increase sales and reduce losses offers a challenge to you further the progress of your company.

Remember, collect your information, analyze it, then ask yourself, "Should we extend this account credit, or more credit? How much?" The decision is yours to make.

The Editor THE FULTON NEWS Fulton, Ky.

Dear Mr. Editor: Your issue of 6/14/56 carries copy of The Tupelo Journal editorial under the caption, "The South Should Forget Its Third Party." I shall not notice faults of this editorial by points; I take exception to the whole thing, as the counsel of moral cowardice. When one sees a human body with its head shot off and its heart shot out, one does not bother to note any erst-while defects, deformities, or infirmities of the deceased. It just begs to be buried—that's all. And the same is the case with this editorial.

There is one reason for a New Party—Defense of The Constitution. This is of MORAL concern. It is an evil thing to tear down the Constitution, and the two parties hitherto prominent have been rivaling each other, doing that very thing.

The Tupelo Journal sets apart Saturday as the day upon which to make honorable mention of THE LORD GOD ALMIGHTY. I have often thought that it would be a fortunate thing if The Tupelo Journal would write all its editorials on Saturday, the one day of the week when it seems to be aware of The Pres-

NO STRIKES, EITHER

U. S. milk industry is the second largest industry in the country, exceeded only by steel.

Thou forsaken me?

YOU CAN'T FIT the great saints into this rosy frame decorated with dollar signs. So many of them were despised and mistreated and suffered willingly for Christ. Their concern, like Christ's, was with sin and repentance. The first had to be conquered, the second fostered. To this they devoted their lives.

But as true Christians, the saints were not gloomy, defeatist specimens. The wellspring of their being was the love of God. With Him they were at peace, at one, doing His will. Hence, in them the true Christian life flourished.

THE LAWS of the true Christian life differ radically from those of worldly living. The true spiritual life is costly and embraces much more than the success and good-feeling which the peace-of-mind people seem to have for their chief goal.

No genuine peace of mind is possible until one sees reality whole and accepts it. Sovereign in reality is man's relationship to God. That must be recognized as it is -- as God has arranged it.

THE WHOLE OF REALITY includes the fact of sin, original and actual, the offense sin gives God, the injury it does man, the requisite means of getting rid of it and doing penance for it. Without this element, the search for peace of mind is bound to be fruitless. It would be tragic to mistake such superficialities and sophistries for eternal wisdom.

ence of THE LORD GOD ALMIGHTY, (maybe at His week-end visits to Terra Firma in the vicinity of Tupelo?) In the editorial above referred to there is absolutely no mention, and it was a mighty fitting place to have made such mention, of THE LORD, either expressly or by implication, and the whole piece is without any hint whatever that human beings are ever to the slightest extent subject to the Influence of The Deity, and no hint of any capacity or susceptibility in humanity for any such Blessed Influence.

It could just as well have been written by the bolshevik "Roonian" or the heathen "Chinee." And since this editorial was not written on Saturday it is therefore, null, void, and of none effect,—dead as h-l, in fact.

Yours truly, BOYCE HENDERSON Postscriptum. Allegoricum:

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

How spiritual understanding of God as divine Life brings increased strength and usefulness will be brought out at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Scriptural readings in the Lesson-Sermon on "Life" will include the following from Psalms (66:8,9): "I bless our God, ye people, and make the voice of his praise to be heard: Which holdeth our soul in life, and suffereth not our feet to be moved."

Among the selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is the following (487:27): "The understanding that Life is God, Spirit, lengthens our days by strengthening our trust in the deathless reality of Life, its almightiness and immortality."

The Golden Text is from John (5:26): "As the Father hath life in himself; so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself."

A good product, a fair price, and advertising, adds up to profits despite notions or doubts to the contrary.

One or two rinses in plain water will not completely rinse the detergent or soap from your clothes. For softer, brighter, cleaner washables, try using a little white vinegar in your last rinse water. About one cup of white vinegar in your rinse water for an average sized family washing will do the trick, whether you use a tub or a washing machine.

Fulton defeated Wingo 7-2 behind the four hit pitching of Reams, who, but for two errors would have had a shut out.
With two out and one man on, a fly ball was hit to Henry Parks, he caught the ball and then "dropped it" allowing the runner to score. Then in the sixth inning with two out Wingo had a runner on third, who stole home on a wild throw by Billy Forrest, which counted for the second and last run for Wingo.

Leading the attack for Fulton were Billy Holland, with 3 for 4 and Billy Forrest with 2 for 4. Frame, for Wingo collected two of the four Wingo hits with Hobbs and Holmes getting the other two.
The next game will be with Hickory, Friday night, July 20, at Mayfield.

CORN FARMERS GET 3 ALTERNATIVES

There are three main ways in which a corn farmer may bring his 1956 corn acreage into compliance with the acreage reserve program of the Soil Bank, County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee Chairman M. O. Champion said today.

He explained the three actions as follows:

1. The farmer may underplant his corn base and certify that this was done in anticipation of complying with the 1956 Acreage Reserve or because of adverse weather conditions at planting time.
2. He may refrain from harvesting the crop on a portion of his corn base acreage because of destruction by natural causes.
3. He may plow or otherwise physically incorporate an agreed-upon acreage of the crop into the soil or clip, mow, or cut it before an established final date, which in no case may be later than July 31.

Points 2 and 3, Mr. Champion pointed out, are special provisions for the 1956 crop year because of the late enactment of the program. He said it is anticipated that different provisions will apply to 1957 and succeeding crops under the Soil Bank.

Crop land placed in the Acreage Reserve in any of the above ways, Mr. Champion said, may not be cut for hay, or cropped for the entire 1956 calendar year. It must not be grazed after June 22. Noxious weeds must be kept under control on the acreage.

Kentucky Utilities Planning To Improve Clinton-Hickman Service With New Line

Kentucky Utilities Company this week announced plans to build a high-voltage transmission line from Clinton to Hickman this year to improve electric service to Hickman electric users and the surrounding area.

Warren Anderson, K.U. Fulton district manager, said that, in addition to the 13.8 miles of 69,000-volt line, a new substation would be constructed on Second Street, south of Moscow Street, near the electrical load center of Hickman and an oil circuit breaker installed in the Clinton substation as part of the project. The total cost of the improvements would exceed $200,000, he said.

The manager said that the new line and substation facilities would greatly increase the electrical capacity for the industrial, commercial and residential growth of the Hickman area. The project would more than double the present capacity. It would also enable the company to expand the capacity many times more with only minor substation changes which could be made quickly to serve new industries or industrial expansions.

Mr. Anderson said that the new facilities would provide improved voltage regulation, a more dependable source of power and increased capacity to the company's customers in and near Hickman.

Hickman is currently served from the K.U. line originating at Fulton. The new line will provide a more direct source and be operated at a higher transmission voltage. The project is scheduled for completion this fall.

CONSERVATION NOTES

Tobacco leaves were hugging the stalk and corn blades were shriveling. Hay had made a short crop. Pastures were brown. Stock water was being hauled. Some streams were down to a trickle and many wells, springs and ponds had gone dry. It was a summer drought.

A wise old farmer was urged to pray for rain. He shook his head and said, "Maybe we need to learn how to use the rain the good Lord gives us before we ask for more."

That's an old story, but it points the way to solving problems.

Water problems in Kentucky? Water problems in a state blessed with more miles of streams than any other of the 48 states. Water problems in the state which has the world's largest man-made reservoirs?

Yes, there are water problems in Kentucky. Despite an adequate annual rainfall—45 inch average over a 50 year period there is not enough to meet the farming demands during the growing season in three years out of four. It has been said that "Kentucky usually has an unusual dry spell."

Kentucky's streams furnish the major portion of the industrial and municipal water supply. But Kentucky's streams do not furnish a stable supply. Although the North Fork of the Kentucky River at Jackson has an average discharge of 8,500 gallons per second, and a peak discharge as high as 351,000 gallons per second, it also has had a minimum flow of zero gallons per second. This range of discharge is typical of all of Kentucky's secondary streams, and even the headwater areas of the major ones.

These problems are a part of the growing pains of progress. It now takes around 65 million gallons of water a day to supply Louisville. This is more than double the daily use 20 years ago. Modern cities and modern industries require ever-increasing amounts of water. And modern farming, too, with expanding program of irrigation, means a much heavier use of water.

OUT ON A LIMB

By Stumpy McCulloch

A couple days ago, some of us were discussing ways to raise more money for our country. A fellow down the road came up with an excellent suggestion: tax every political speech made in this country.

His plan would take a lot of doing, but it would give us an opening wedge to reduce taxes. A wedge such as this would be important, just as wedges are important in the lumbering of big trees—the kind of trees they grow up in Oregon, Washington and British Columbia. Unlike taxation, however, a wedge used in timber work—following a saw cut—prevents pinching. It makes it easier to complete the cut. In felling trees, a wedge can be used to tip the tree in the desired direction. Maybe an opening wedge is just what we need—for timber or for politics.

Many fellers use wooden wedges in the timber, particularly when they're working with soft woods. Wooden wedges are cheap, and they can be home-made. Hardwood is best; dogwood, ironwood, hard maple and beech. But wedges made from green timber don't stand up very well.

I find it's best to use a wedge that's been cut with a saw. It seems to work better than one shaped with an axe. The rougher surface left by the saw holds better. And it's good to use a wooden wedge with a chain saw. Since the wedge is apt to come in contact with the moving chain on the back, steel wedges would only damage the saw.

Sometimes, however, if you're working in the woods, it's best to use steel wedges. A crew can split a heap of wooden wedges during a day. You can buy steel wedges from any saw dealer or you can have them made up in a blacksmith shop. I've found the best metal wedges are those that are left untempered. If you strike a tempered steel wedge with a tempered steel sledge, the wedge is apt to spall and the flyin' fragments can be dangerous enough to send you to your doctor.

Speakin' of doctors, I knew one once who put a pretty girl in a private hospital room 'cause she had a skinned finger. "She was too cute for words," was the doctor's excuse.

Did you know that almost ten million acres of good timber were burned in 1953? That's enough wood to build houses for every family east of the Rockies. Still, this was the lowest forest fire figure since 1946, and that's a good sign.

My old friend Hank Leavitt, out in Sacramento, Calif., wrote to tell me that a pal of his was worried 'cause his daughter had taken up with a new doctor in town. But Henry solved the problem. "There's one way to break it up," Henry told him. "Feed her an apple a day."

Pineapple Oat Crisp

Hot, spicy Pineapple Oat Crisp is an answer to busy homemakers who want to serve an easy-to-make filling dessert. There's no long time preparation—just arrange the pineapple in the baking dish, then sprinkle with the oat-crumb mixture.

The crunchy oat topping, rich with brown sugar and butter and lightly spiced with cinnamon, is so simple to make. It bakes to a crisp candy-like layer, the perfect cover-up for chunks of pineapple and colorful slices of maraschino cherries. Either regular or quick-cooking rolled oats can be used.

Since this dessert is so good served warm, you can put it in the oven just before dinner. Then bring it to the table right in its own baking dish, resting it in a pretty wrought iron rack or on a colorful ceramic tile.

Breakfast cereals are a willing ally to nutrition-minded, budget-wise homemakers. When used as an ingredient they add variety, interest, flavor and texture, and they are inexpensive. In addition to these qualities, breakfast cereals make important contributions of protein, the B-complex vitamins, minerals, and food energy. Look to the breakfast cereals on your kitchen shelf for added variety and nutrition the next time you make desserts, cookies, breads, candies, pie crust, muffins, or meat loaves.

Pineapple Oat Crisp

3 cups pineapple, chunk style 2 (14 ounce) cans
1/2 cup maraschino cherries,
1/2 cup rolled oats, uncooked
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 cup melted butter or margarine

Arrange fruit in 10 x 6 x 2-inch baking dish. Sprinkle with sugar and lemon juice. Combine dry ingredients, add melted butter, mixing until crumbly. Sprinkle crumb mixture over fruit. Bake in a moderate oven (350°-375° F.) 30 minutes. Serve warm or cold with top milk or cream.

Diary of Doin's

By Mary Nelle Wright

The News writes social happenings about you and your friends (Listen To Airwave Diary: Thursday, 9:45 A. M., Over WFUL)

'Tis a happy world! Your Diarist skips here and there -- talking to friends and learning interesting tid-bits of all the comings and goings. Maybe 'tis the weather man and his generosity with the cool breezes after such sweltering weather -- who knows? But, anyway, we'll keep this frame of mind as we jot down some things we think you'd like to read about . . .

SPEAKING OF TRIPS—Sara and Ward Johnson and son, Joe, are three people who are strictly after our own hearts—because they take the kind of trips that we would like to take. They just get all of their clothes together and start out in a chosen direction and drive until they find an interesting place to stop. But between you and me — this trip will be a SUPER one as they are going East. They'll leave Fulton bright and early Friday morning and will spend the first night in Cincinnati where they have tickets for the Cincinnati Reds versus Philadelphia Phillies baseball game. They will also see Cinerama Holiday. From then on—their course is an UNCHARTED one—but they'll probably go on to Niagara Falls, Boston and other eastern cities, then they will come back by way of Washington. In Washington they will visit with Ward's niece, Mrs. C. W. Pope. And you Diarist hopes their plans will materialize for them to make a little trip over to Annapolis, because we know Don Wright would be the happiest one to see them! So—we'll be seeing the Johnsons after they return from their two weeks trip. Have a fine time, my friends!

Your Diarist was so happy to see Harold Mullins out at the Country Club a day or so ago. He and his lovely wife, Jane and two daughters, Jane and Judy are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Mullins on Fourth Street. Harold and Jane live at Park Forest, Illinois. Harold has recently been promoted to Trainmaster of Markham Yard at Hazelcrest. Those of us in Fulton are surely proud of this young man because we know that Markham Yard is the largest terminal on the Illinois Central.

This popular young couple will visit in Fulton until Friday when they will leave for Madisonville, Ky., to visit with her parents.

Everyone will miss seeing Gene Holloway and Frankie Cardwell around town this summer. Both boys volunteered for the Marine Corps. They left Fulton last Thursday for Paducah, then to Louisville, Atlanta and their destination — Paris Island where they will receive their basic training. Gene is the 19 year old son of Lucille and Wilburn Holloway. He is a graduate of Fulton High School and he attended Transylvania College at Lexington, Ky. last year.

Frankie is the 18-year-old son of Frances and Ernest Cardwell of Fulton. He also graduated from Fulton High and attended Tennessee Tech. at Cookeville, Tenn. last year. Our best wishes to these two nice youngsters for their success in the Marine Corps.

Mrs. William Lane Fossett

Nancy Wilson And William Lane Fossett Are United In Marriage Thursday At First Methodist

By Agatha Voelpel
The First Methodist Church became the bride of William Lane Fossett, son of Mrs. Carl F. Stith and the late Edward Fossett of Falmouth, Ky. The ceremony was solemnized at 5:30 p.m., with the Rev. Henry

E. Russell, pastor of the church, officiating.

During the assembling of the guests, Mrs. Clarence L. Maddox, organist, presented an elaborate program of nuptial music. Just before the ceremony, Miss Beverly Hill, soprano, sang "At Dawning" (Cadman), and "The Sweetest Story Ever Told" (Stutz). She also sang the Matthe "Lord's Prayer" at the close of the ceremony.

The lovely brunette bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a beautiful formal wedding gown of imported Chantilly lace in the Dresden rose pattern, combined with tulle and made over heavy bridal satin. The bodice of lace and shirred tulle was designed with a deep portrait neckline with the natural scallops of the lace embroidered with iridescent sequins; the long fitted sleeves ended in points over her hands. A deep lace border was applied to the voluminous tulle skirt and extended from a knee-length point in the front around the sweeping cathedral train. Her filmy veil was of illusion with hand rolled edges, it fell from a dainty open crown bonnet of lace embroidered in iridescent; over the lace was finely pleated tulle; pearls edged the brim and were in flower-like cluster around the opening in the crown. At either side there were sprays of illusion petals, each tipped with a single iridescent centered with a seed pearl. She carried a white Bible topped with a fuschia throated topped orchid and stephanotis, nestled in puffs of illusion and tied with satin ribbons.

Mrs. Gene Hatfield was matron of honor; Miss Anne Latta was maid of honor, and Miss Hazelen Pace, Miss Jane White Miss Mary Davis Weeks and Mrs. Herbert Hunt III were bridesmaids.

Little Miss Karen Treas, the adorable flower-girl, wore an identical frock with pink taffeta sash; her bouquet was a miniature of that of the other attendants.

Edward Lee Fossett served his brother as best man; the ushers were William S. Wilson, brother of the bride, Larry Depp, James W. Fossett, brother of the groom, Thomas Proctor, Jerry Nichols and Roger Ladenburger.

Ward Bushart, Jr., and Gregory Williamson were acolytes.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson entertained with a reception at the Fulton Country Club.

The bride's table was draped in a cutwork cloth with festoons of satin ribbon caught with gardenias. The twin cakes were wedding bells with clusters of pompom chrysanthemums forming the clappers. Silver candelabra flanked the cakes.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. D. C. Thacker, Mrs. Howard Edwards, Mrs. R. H. White, Mrs. Harry Murphy, Mrs. William H. Hill, Mrs. Maxwell McDade, Mrs. Gilson Latta and Mrs. E. E. Williamson.

Organ music was heard during the reception.

Early in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Fossett left for an extended wedding trip.

Shirley Easley And Jerry Hawks Exchange Vows Sunday At First Methodist Church In Fulton

In an unusual candle-lit service at the First Methodist Church in Fulton, Sunday afternoon, July 8, at 3:30, Miss Shirley Easley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Easley of Fulton, became the bride of Jerry Hawks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hawks of Fulton.

The church altar was a picture of summer loveliness with appointed arrangements of woodwardia ferns, interspersed with white gladioli trees.

The Rev. H. E. Russell, pastor of the church, officiated at the impressive double-ring ceremony, performed before a large assembly of friends and relatives.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. L. C. Logan, organist, and J. C. Suggs, soloist.

The attractive brunette bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a lovely waltz-length wedding gown of white embroidered organdy.

Her bouquet was a white orchid topped a white prayer book, showered with white bridal satin, tied in love-knots.

Mrs. Pete Byars, sister of the bride, was Miss Easley's matron of honor; Mrs. Johnny Thompson, sister of the groom, and Mrs. John Brown, sister of the bride, were bridesmaids. They wore identical sheath dresses in rainbow colors with organdy over-skirts, and carried matching bouquets of white Marguerite daisies. Their matching headbands were of ruffled illusion, scattered with small flowers.

George Edd Easley, brother of the bride, served as best man. The ushers were Paul Heltsley, cousin of the groom, Donald Kimbro, Tommy Brown, cousin of the bride, and Joe Pigue.

Immediately following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held at the Easley's spacious country home on West State Line. Those attending were the immediate families, out of town guests and a few close friends of the young couple.

Following the reception, the young couple left on a Florida wedding trip. Upon their return they will be at home at 514 West State Line.

Ruth House And Billy Holland Are Married In Double Ring Ceremony At Salem Methodist

In an impressive ceremony performed on Sunday, June 17 at 3 o'clock at the Salem Methodist Church, Miss Ruth House, of Fulham became the bride of Billy Holland of Fulton.

Rev. J. R. Wooten, uncle of the groom performed the double ring ceremony before a large assembly of relatives and friends.

Preceding the exchanging of the vows and as the guests assembled, a program of nuptial music was presented by Miss Janice Walker, organist and Mrs. John Weir Jr. soloist.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Howard House, wore a ballerina length gown of embroidered organdy over net and taffeta fashioned with a long fitted torso and full skirt of pleats with satin insertion ending in a bow in the back. The bodice featured short sleeves and a low square neckline. She wore white satin arm mitts pointed over the hands and fastened with tiny cover buttons.

She wore a tiara of seed pearls from which fell a double fingertip veil of silk illusion. She carried a white Bible topped with a large purple orchid and baby breath tied with matching satin streamers. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls.

Miss Sue House attended her sister as maid of honor.

David Holland served his brother as best man. The ushers were Edwin House, brother of the bride and Joe Holland, brother of the groom.

A register which was kept by Miss Mary Alice Mullins was signed by more than one hundred and fifty guests.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Holland, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Wooten of Detroit, Mich. and Mrs. Clyde Dockey, Bobby and Mary Ann of Owasso, Mich.

hostesses.

The lovely Colonial home was decorated throughout with arrangements of Shasta daisies, roses and greenery, which were gifts from friends.

A delectable two course dinner was served buffet style. Double silver wedding rings held white tapers and white gladioli were used for the central appointment on the buffet table. The tables at which the guests were seated were decorated with similar arrangements of single wedding rings with pink gladioli. Wedding ring place cards were used to mark the places of the 48 guests who attended.

Miss Wilson and Mr. Fossett presented the members of the wedding party with gifts following the supper.

Economy In Their Bonnets

'Fits like a charm,' Mrs. Carl Rogers (standing) says as she places a new bonnet on the head of Mrs. Harvey Vaughn at the meeting of the Chestnut Glade Homemakers. Admiring the purses they made are seated Mrs. Jimmie Westbrook, left and Mrs. Myrtle Temple, right.

Mrs. V. C. Simpson, left and Mrs. Jim Burke, crafts leader of the Chestnut Glade Homemakers have a little fun as they wrap weaving braid around the shoulders of Mrs. Edna Strong, one of the charter members of the club.

The ladies of the Chestnut Glade Community are fashion designers from the word "go." They have no worries about matching accessories when they buy a garment and want a hat and bag to match... they just get right to work and make the accessories themselves.

That's exactly what a News reporter learned when she visited the members of the Chestnut Glade Homemakers at a meeting in the home of the club's president Mrs. Carl Rogers a few weeks ago.

With gaily colored straw of every hue, the ladies were chatting and working and chuckling to themselves at the economy with which they are able to look beautifully dressed as a result of their own handiwork. Taking all costs into consideration, exclusive of the time they put into making the hat or bag, an average bag costs about 82 cents. This includes any little zipper, or clasp or lining they must buy to complete the accessory.

What is more the ladies are happier still to know that this enjoyable craft was taught to them by two of their own members. Mrs. Jim Burke and Mrs. V. C. Simpson attended a course in crafts held at the University of Tennessee Martin Branch taught by the county home demonstration agent, Miss Odom.

The course was sponsored in connection with Home Demonstration Week held early in May.

Lily Dache, John Fredericks, Knox, Dobbs or Adams can take a lesson or two from these ladies. So if you see a happy lady in a bonnet with all the frills upon it, you'll just know that she's a member of the Chestnut Glade Homemakers Club.

Miss Carrie Jackson, a retired missionary to Korea was the speaker for an International Day Tea held at the Rush Creek Church by the Rush Creek Homemakers Club.

Althea blossoms, Korea's national flower, surrounded the punch bowl and oriental dolls sat on each side. Homemade cookies were served with the country club punch.

Miss Jackson told the club members and guests about the homes and customs of the Korean people. She also told of the persecution of christian leaders by the communists. Several articles of interest which Miss Jackson had brought from Korea were displayed.

Some of the group enjoyed going to the water plant in Union City.

The class will have a fish fry in July.

Interest Centered Here In Marriage Of Robert Wade Askew To Miss Claudia Wray

Of wide social interest in Fulton and West Kentucky, is the announcement made in California by Mr. and Mrs. John Wray of the marriage of their daughter, Claudia to Mr. Robert Wade Askew, son of Mr. and Mrs. Len Askew of that city. Robert Wade is the nephew of Mrs. Harvey Caldwell, Mrs. Bob White and Mrs. Frank Beadles of Fulton. His mother is the former Miss Ruth Wade of this city.

The wedding ceremony was performed in the Calvary Baptist Church with Rev. G. R. Slemens reading the impressive ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father wore a beautifully styled gown of white net with lace insets and fitted bodice. She wore a fragile crown of pearls to hold the short veil and carried a white orchid in a shower of stephanotis and satin ribbons.

She chose as her matron of honor Mrs. Sherry Smith who wore a pink shantung frock with accessories to complement the costume. Bridesmaids were Miss Dorothy Courtney, Miss Gail Qualls and Miss Mary Collins, each dressed in aqua shantung and matching picture hats. Karen Wray, a cousin of the bride was flower girl.

The bridegroom chose Bill Windham as his best man. Ushers were Jerry La Bonte, Harry Wray and R. T. Smith. Young Mike Pendergraft, nephew of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

Nuptial music was rendered by Howard Ralston at the organ.

Following the wedding ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Wray entertained at a reception honoring the wedding guests and later entertained at a delightful buffet supper—where members of both families were guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Askew spent their wedding trip at Catalina Island and are now at home at 545B South Painter Avenue in Whittier, California.

Again it is the time for all of us to want a freezer. I am sure you have wondered if it should be the upright type or a chest.
There are so many good points
about each type.
Food packages are more accessible in the upright type, though if the freezer is heavily loaded and not packed systematically, it can be something of a job to locate and remove a certain package from any freezer.

The chest-type freezer scores
a point when placed in the kitchen (the best place for any freezer) because its flat top can be used as a working surface.
Not to be outdone, the upright can truthfully say that it occupies less kitchen floor space.
When it comes to cost of operating the two types, we have learned that there is not a great deal of difference, if the freezer are well located and wisely managed. The best location is a dry, cool, well ventilated area. This will help to keep down excessive frosting, which adds to operating costs. Frequent turnover of the contents of the freezer decreases the cost per pound of operating. More and more women are conscious that food loses flavor if kept in the freezer beyond recommended time limits.
Food is not better after it is frozen than it was before freezing. Select your best meats, vegetables and fruits at the peak of their perfection. Air is the destroyer of flavor and texture in frozen foods. Seal it out carefully.
A home food freezer is a fine piece of equipment. It deserves good care, and will repay its owner handsomely if intelligently used.
Here is a good frozen fruit
salad for your freezer. 2 cups

Company Chicken,
Oven Fried from the Start

Here's a new and different approach to the fried chicken department. It's oven fried! The chicken is prepared in one pan; no previous browning needed and it reaches a rich golden brown.
It's called "Company Chicken" because it frees the cook from standing over the range and it's subtly and deliciously flavored with California white table wine.
Good go-alongs are the "Creamy Baked Limas" baked in the same oven, raisin cornbread squares prepared from a mix, colorful canned cling peach halves filled with tart currant jelly, and chilled ripe olives and celery hearts.

The planning of this company meal combines all the attributes of an efficient homemaker. It's appealing; all foods eat well together and it eases meal preparation by utilizing the oven.
Company Chicken
2 frying chickens (about 3 to 3 1/2 pounds each)
1/2 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1 tablespoon salt
2 teaspoons paprika
1/2 teaspoon black pepper
1 cup shortening
1 cup California Sauterrie, Rhine Wine, or other white
table wine
Cut chicken in serving pieces. Blend flour, salt, paprika and pepper in paper bag. Shake chicken, a few pieces at a time, to coat. Melt shortening in large shallow pan, and place chicken skin side down in shortening. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) about 30 minutes, until browned. Drain off excess shortening and turn chicken skin side up. Drizzle wine over chicken, cover loosely with foil. Reduce oven heat to moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) Bake about 45 minutes longer. Makes about 8 servings.

Creamy Baked Limas
2 cups California large dry limas
5 cups boiling water
2 1/2 teaspoons salt
6 strips bacon
1 large onion
1/2 green sweet pepper
1 cup commercial sour cream
2 tablespoons molasses
1 teaspoon dry mustard
Black pepper
Rinse limas, add boiling water and boil 2 minutes. Cover and let stand 1 hour. Add 2 teaspoons salt, and boil slowly until tender, 45 minutes to 1 hour. Cut bacon in 1/4-inch strips, and fry until crisp.
Remove bacon, and drain off all but 2 tablespoons fat. Chop onion and green pepper, and cook slowly until transparent but not browned.
Add sour cream, molasses, mustard, remaining 1/2 teaspoon salt, and pepper to taste. Drain limas, reserving 1/2 cup cooking liquid.
Combine limas, 1/2 cup cooking liquid mixture, sour cream mixture and bacon, mix lightly, and turn into 2 1/2 quart baking dish. Cover.
Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) about 45 minutes, removing cover about 15 minutes before serving. Garnish with small red plum tomatoes, if desired. Makes about 8 servings.

HOME HYGIENE HISTORY

Women in Elizabethan times did not realize the value of washing or creaming the face at frequent intervals. Many suffered from ugly skin blemishes. Modern women have smooth, creamy complexions because of excellent skin care.

The first American settlers got plenty of healthy exercise in the outdoors just by doing their daily work. Many modern men who spend working days in offices, must plan their exercise through week-end and after-work recreation.

Early American children were not encouraged to brush their teeth until after their second tooth had grown. Dentists today say a child should be taught to brush his teeth at the age of two. Modern babies for children are treated with an anti-bacterial that destroys or inhibits germs that fall or settle on bottles.

By following the rules of good hygiene, American families are the healthiest in the world.

TIPTONVILLE FERRY HIT BY BARGE; FERRYMAN DROWNS

Sunday Morning Crash Occurs Despite Good Visibility, Reports Say

Services were held Tuesday afternoon for Faye R. (Pete) Petty, 30, Tiptonville ferry employee, whose body was recovered Monday morning from a ferry tug-boat which sank in the Mississippi river early Sunday morning after a collision with a gasoline-laden tow pushed by the Cape Zephyr.

The Rev. W. B. Oakley conducted the services at the Tiptonville First Baptist Church. Burial was in the Tiptonville city cemetery.

Mr. Petty's body was removed from the ferry tug which was dragged ashore by two tractors. Divers had attempted earlier to recover the body from the sunken boat but were hampered by swift currents.

Mr. Petty was aboard the ferry tug with the pilot, Lewis Johnson, when it collided with the Cape Zephyr tow at 6:20 a.m. The two boats crashed near the center of the main channel.

Mr. Johnson was pulled from the river by one of the seven passengers on the barge who escaped injury. He was taken to Smythe's clinic in Tiptonville and treated for a serious head injury and shock. His condition Monday was reported as satisfactory.

It has not been determined as yet whether a formal board of investigation will be held in the crash, according to a statement by Cmdr. John R. Silliman of the Coast Guard Marine Inspection office at Memphis.

In a similar accident 10 years ago on a Sunday night, an oil barge hit a ferry broadside about 50 yards off the Missouri bank at Caruthersville. The small tug pulling the ferry was crushed against its side and the ferry overturned, dumping 24 persons in four cars and a pickup truck into the river. Eleven died.

The tow consisted of three oil barges and two tugboats, moving upstream. The pilot of the ferry thought he had time to pass in front of the oil barges and reach a landing, but he misjudged the speed of the barge.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, a polio victim, founded the Georgia Warm Springs Foundation, first institution exclusively for polio, in 1927.
